

Mickael Drouard

Mickael is a facilitator and a consultant, specialized in collective intelligence.

After a successful international career in HR Development & Change Management for a Scandinavian multinational company (China, Switzerland, Finland, and France), Mickael has co-founded Awareness consulting, an agency specialising in group facilitation and organizational development with the use of collective intelligence based in Brussels.

Mickael designs participative and strategic seminars and collaborative enterprises processes. His approach consists in using and developing the potential of collective intelligence in organization with innovative methods to enhance ownership and apprenticeship and to stimulate the generation of ideas and participative dialogue whilst motivating the participants in a constructive atmosphere.

Mickael holds a Master Degree in International Management. He is a Holacracy™ and MBTI™ certified practitioner and has trained intensively on Emotional and Collective Intelligence related disciplines (Non Violent Communication, Sociocracy, Open Space Technology, Art of Hosting, Noetic Sciences).

Mickael has facilitated international seminars and training sessions for more than 6,000 people over the last 5 years. Clients who have recently called on his expertise include the European Commission, Total, Euro RSCG, Société Générale, Danone, SNCF, Renault, EADS.

He works in English and French.
