

Stephane Lhuillier

Executive coach, affiliate professor, entrepreneur and keynote speaker, Stéphane brings together all the facets of his career in large international companies, coaching Executives, teams and organizations, teaching in a management school and leading communities to efficiently respond to his Clients' challenges and needs.

- He coaches Executives, teams and organizations to help them responding more effectively to the opportunities and challenges of complex environments,
- he directs and teaches the international Leadership development program 'Develop Yourself as a Leader' at HEC Paris,
- he delivers keynote conferences on leadership, change, multicultural management, intergenerational management,
- he leads a virtual community of over one million vintage motorcycles and cars enthusiasts.

Stephane is certified in Coaching and Team-Building, a certified practitioner of Systems Thinking, Transactional Analysis and 360° assessments, an experienced practitioner of MBTI. He holds a Master of Sciences in Engineering and a MBA from IMD Lausanne.

Over the past 15 years, Stéphane has worked for companies of all sizes, in France, Europe, the Middle East, Africa and North America, including Aecom, Agilent Technologies, Allianz, Bouygues, Imerys, Intercept, Legrand, Pfizer, Roche, Sanofi, Seveal, Terrena, Total, Thales.

Stephane lives in Paris, France, and works in French and English.